Following publication of the original article [1], it was reported that four instances of anonymized text remaining from the peer review process were present in the Methods section.

In the following sentences the bolded text has replaced 'BLINDED':

- 1. Two independent reviewers conducted title and abstract screening (KG and KO) in duplicate.
- 2. KG and KO conducted the data extraction and qualitative content analysis under guidance from the corresponding author.
- 3. KG, KO, and KS developed a set of 25 codes to examine the health behavior theories, equity frameworks, and application of equity frameworks to health behavior interventions.

 Risk of bias and quality assessments were completed independently and in duplicate by KG, KO, and KS using different critical appraisal tools depending on study design.

The original article [1] has been corrected.
